The used of continued fractions to speed up the exponentiation

Amadou Tall (Univ. Dakar, AIMS Sénégal)

Abstract: Exponentiation is the most important operation in cryptography. The main objectif of this presentation will be to use the continued fractions to recover some of the existing algorithms.